This volume is fondly dedicated to one of our colleagues, Hector Avalos, who passed away during the process of composition and publication. He left us, alas, at a most productive stage of his life and his career, depriving us of so much work and so much wisdom still in the offing. We count ourselves, however, most fortunate in having his study in the volume. His work was always solid, sharp, and challenging. We shall miss his voice and his face. We are most grateful for his multiple contributions to both the field of biblical studies and the movement of minority studies.

Acknowledgments

This volume has been made possible due to the assistance and support of a good number of people, to whom we are deeply indebted and most thankful. First and foremost, to all those who took part in the project, for their gracious acceptance of our invitation and fine contributions. Second, to Dr. Jacqueline M. Hidalgo, general editor of Semeia Studies, for her full support of this project, and to Dr. Gregory A. Cuéllar, the board editor for the volume, for his keen and gracious review of the volume. Third, to Olubunmi Adegbola and Ludwig Noya for their work on preparing the indexes. Finally, to the publications staff of SBL Press for their assistance throughout the process of publication.
